Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6-12-2003 has been entered.

Double Patenting

Claims 11-13 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being substantial duplicates of claims 8-10 respectively. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-3 and 5-10 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Each of instant claims 1-3 and 5-10 are allowable over the cited prior art at least because none of the cited prior art shows or fairly suggests the use in a metal flake producing device a nozzle adapted to directly deposit a molten metal on to the surface of a first roll and then subsequently, onto a second roll spaced from the first roll by a gap of more than the metal thickness. As convincingly argued by the Applicant in the reply submitted on 5-9-2003, pages 3 and 4, the Heinemann reference, while being made for the production of metal flakes, deposits the metal into a gap between the rolls (see page 29 of Heinemann), while the Japanese'698 reference, while showing the deposition of molten metal onto a roll directly, then rolls the metal between two rolls directly contacting the molten metal (the gap being smaller than the molten metal thickness) in order to produce a metal strip. Because Japanese'698 is directed to metal strip production, while Heinemann is directed to metal flake production, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would not have found it obvious to combine these two non-analogous references, as argued by the applicant in the reply submitted on 5-9-2003, page 4.

Conclusion

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR

1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
